This program is part of an integrated bridge program designed to simultaneously provide ABE 3-level learners with the academic preparation needed to quickly advance in Educational Functioning Levels, allowing them to prepare for effective participation in higher level Workforce Training programs, while also providing them with Workforce Preparation and Workforce Training Skills. The program integrates research-based reading and math instruction with workforce preparation activities (based on SUNY’s seven competency model), while also embedding workforce training competencies by offering CPR certification.

Learners who are in or planning to enter or return to the workforce are interviewed by the workforce team to determine their level of commitment and any barriers they may have. CASAS Reading Assessment - 216, CASAS Math Assessment - 203.
